New York Pitchers Allow Few Hits to Atlanta-Score 6 to 1.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 14.-The New York Americans won another game from the Atlanta team to-day with the onesided score of six runs to one. With the return of hot weather the New York pitchers are able to let their arms loose; and the result is that the locals think themselves lucky if they secure a hit. Four hits was the net result of their efforts to-day, and it was only because Hogg took things easy when the bases were empty that they got three singles off his delivery.

They had no chance to score while Hogg was in the box, as they could not do any-thing but hit straight at the fielders. Manning worked the last four innings and was good most of the time, but he opened the seventh by walking the first two men who Two infield outs following the passes gave Atlanta a run, and then Manning killed their chances by striking out the last Manning allowed but one hit and struck out three men.

Stahl singled in the first inning after men were out. Then he stole second. Ball got a base on balls and Chase hit to the third baseman, who made a wild throw to eatch Ball at second. Ball continued to third and Stahl scored, but Chase was run down trying to Ball walked in the fourth and went to third on Chase's double. Hemphill was thrown out by the pitcher, but Conroy sirigled to deep left, sending Ball and Chase home. The New Yorks made a few hits in the next few innings but did not score until the eighth, when Stahl waited for a pass. Ball cracked a two sacker to left and Stahl scored on a squeeze play on which Chase was put out at first.

Hemphill hit is right field and by good running and a fine slide managed to stretch it to a two base hit, sending Ball across the rubber. After Conroy had popped out to second, Sweeney hit to centre for three bases and Hemphill came home with the last run of the game.

and Hemphill came home with the last run of the game. Confoy strained a muscle in his leg and when he reached first Griffith took his place and ran for him. Conroy was the star batsman, getting two singles and a two bagger. Griffith has ordered a set of shin guards for his catchers, Kid Elberfeld and Harry Niles. The manager is determined that his men shall not be crippled by sliders who come into the bag feet first.

NATIONALS QUELL A PITCHER. Score Twelve Runs in First Inning Against

Fort Worth Team. FORT WORTH, Tex., March 14 .- The New York Nationals played havoc with the local baseball team here to-day, winning a runaway game by the score of 23 to 2. The first inning for the visitors produced a cannonading that has seldom been surpassed. Johnson pitched for the local team and delivered choice morsels to sixteen batters. After scoring twelve runs the New Yorkers stopped on the base lines in order to end the farce.

Twenty hits yielded thirty-one bases, Donlin's home run swelling the total considerably. Seven bases were stolen by the New Yorks, the most daring being Bresnahan's steal of third base and then home. This wrecked the nerves of the home players, but the 20,000 spectators applauded Roger to-show their appreciation of his caraestaess. GOOD WORK BY COLTS.

McGraw's Youngsters Shut Out Dallas Team and Score Two Runs.

DALLAS, Tex., March 14.- Manager McGraw of the New York Nationals remained here to-day to inspect his youngsters and they performed in grand style, shutting out the local Texas League team. The score was 2 to 0, the same as the regulars made here last week, but to-day's game was a better exhibition. The New York boys played an errorless game and ran the bases nicely. No hits were marked up for Dallas until the seventh inning, when Maloney, the local manager, registered a single. off Beecher. He went to second base on a wild pitch, and it was as far as any of the Dallas players proceeded. Only three men, reached first base for the local team. Malarkey and Crandall twirled the first six innings and held the enemy hitless. Evans made two of New York's five hits. The same three pitchers will be used again in to-morrow's game here. The leg on the March cup was his first score, and he came out ahead after a tie with T. J. O Donohue, both having a total of 46. On the handicap they were level, with an allowance of 4 targets each. MONTCLAIR, N. J.. March 14.—More than twenty-five gunners reported for the weekly shoot of the Montclair Gun Club to-day. The day was excellent for the sport. There was little wind blowing and the light was just right for the markamen. The result was that the gunners had a fine afternoon and made excellent scores. The ending of the shoot-ing season at the Crescent Athletic Club brought several New Moon gunners to the local traps. There were also several profes-sionals present who shot along with the markamen.

sionals present who shot along with the marksmen.

The feature of the afternoon was the weekly shoot for the Greener prize. The leg was captured by O. C. Grinnell, Jr., a well known shot of the Greecent Atheltic Club. With a handicap of three, Mr. Grinnell broke forty-nine of the flying blue rocks. George Piercy took the third shoot for the Boxall cup with a full score of 25. As Mr. Piercy shot from scratch the run was the best of the afternoon. Neif Appar, a professional, tied with E. Winslow in one of the club trophy shoots and F. W. Moffett took a scratch event. E. Jacobus was high gun for the Barnes cup with a score of 25.

Morristown, N. J., March 14.—The Morris Gun Club defeated the Bernardsville Club at the traps this afternoon by a score of 101 to 98. The individual scores were:

HARVARD FENCERS LOSE. Yale and Massachusetts Tech Put Crimson Out of Intercollegiates.

Boston, March 14.-Harvard was crowded out of the intercollegiate fencing championship tournament through the victories of Yale and Massachusetts Tech at the Technology gymnasium to-night.

The bouts between the three teams were the preliminaries of the northern division of the intercollegiate championship and Harvard made a very poor showing. Yale Harvard made a very poor showing. Yale was first, being the winner of fifteen bouts, while Tech was second with eight victories to its credit, and Harvard managed to win in but four of the encounters.

E. C. Staley of Yale was the individual star of the meet as he won every one of his nine bouts. This is the first time that Technology has entered a team in the preliminaries for the championship, and in spite of many disadvantages which the Tech team suffered it went into the contest in the best of form.

The makeup of the Tech team was E. M. Loring captain; F. J. Lange and J. M. Nickerson. There has been considerable question lately as to whether a fencing team should or should not exist at Tech, it being regarded as a rich man's sport and one which the institute could not support.

The fact that the Tech team to-night demonstrated its superiority over the Harvard fencers aroused much enthusaism among the Tech undergraduates and there is no question about what the status of the fencing team will be in the future.

of the Michigan gymnasium indoor track may have been partly responsible for his easy victory.

Dull and May, two candidates for vacancies on Michigan's four mile relay team, fought for the right to first place on Michigan's team that meets the First Regiment of Chicago next Saturday and Dull won easily in 4 minutes 32 seconds.

After two days of stubborn fighting the and tripping was frequent.

The Canadians played the game characteristic of their locality. It was a game of good tenth international cable chess match, which was begun on Friday morning, ended last night in a victory for America. The Americans have already secured 51/2 points out of a team work, hard checking, tripping and possible 10 by winning three games and sometimes roughness. The Americans won three games in succession, namely, on boards seven, eight and nine. First to score was Wolbrecht, who by

The Crescent team started well and for ten minutes put up a good defence, but by that time the players had been sent down so often and had skated so fast that they were tired and lost their usual vim and snap. During, the game Herbert Clarke was sent off twice for tripping and Toms and Martin once each. Dobby was put off for one minut for siashing at H. Clarke. It is five years since Dobby infringed any rule and every one was surprised, but he had some excuse. Farlier in the contest H. Clarke caught him around the neck with his stick and threw him to the ice. The referees took no notice of this and Dobby took things into his own hands.

The game started with a rush. Lifiton and H. Clarke faced off, and Clarke secured the puck and shot at once, almost scoring. cession, namely, on boards seven, eight and nine. First to score was Wolbrecht, who by an exceedingly smart combination completely annihilated his adversary's position, forcing Mitchell's resignation after 46 moves. Next came Schwietzer, who cleverly outplayed England. He won after 42 moves. The third to win his game was Libaire, who had nursed the advantage which he had obtained in the morning until there was nothing left for Palmer but to surrender, which he did after 54 moves had been recorded. Some of the games did not look exactly favorable for the Americans, notably so on boards one, three, four and ten. However, on board ten Robinson managed to draw, although being a pawn behind. He threatened to win back the pawn, but rather than lose it the Britisher repeated a series of moves by which the game was finally drawn after 48 moves. Meanwhile Helms forced his adversary to give up the exchange, thus evening up matters. Inadvertedly Helms repeated a series of moves and his adversary then claimed a draw after 58 moves, which was allowed. On the first board Blackburne had won a and H. Clarke faced off, and Clarke secured the puck and shot at once, almost scoring. Lang made a good stop. On the next play Toms was cautioned for tripping Shirref, and when they lined up again Liffton shot from the faceoff, and the puck hit the post. Liffton and Shirreff made a fine run, but Keith stopped the shot and then the puck was kept hustling up and down the rink.

The Crescents were more on the defensive than the Canadians, and Lang turned several hard shots aside in good style. Liffiton, Shirreff and Wall were frequently tripped, and once Wall had his breeches badly torn and it caused some amusement among those present when he went to the side line to have them pinned up.

H. Clarke scored the first goal ten minutes after the game began. He got the puck from Toms in front of the goal and sent it by O'Flynn and Lang into the cage. Right after this play he was sent to the bench for tripping Liffiton.

Evans then tried for a goal, but Lang stopped the puck and left the cage to clear it. Toms, who had rushed in, slammed the rubber into the net before Lang could reach it. The next goal was made by Davidson unassisted. He took it from Kennedy, near the Canadian goal and brought it back in fine style.

On the first board Blackburne had won a pawn, but Hodges put up a sterling defence and when the game was adjourned after 60 moves it seemed as if the adjudicator would have to declare the game drawn.

Voigt, who for a long time had been believed to be a sure winner, somehow missed the road to victory and eventually Atkins emerged with a pawn to the good, but the position arrived at was a book draw. Sixtyone moves had been recorded. Atkins after some hesitation consented to a draw, which secured the match for America.

The Britishers demanded that America should give up games one and four, they being a pawn ahead on both boards, which, however, the Americans refused to do. Delmar, on the fourth board, made amends for his early indifferent play, holding his adversary at bay up to the last. Sixty moves were also made in this game.

There were only four starters, Burlew & O'Neil had two of them, Chapulteree and Angelus. Local racegoers expected the former to win, but a chance was given to Pinkola. Chapulteree went to the front but could not live up to the pace he set; and when Dugan was ready with Meelick he ran over him. Chapulteree led to the head of the stretch, but when collared he quit all over, and it was only a fomp for Meelick the rest of the way. Angelus finished third, while Pinkola was a very distant fourth.

The crowd which witnessed the running of the Derby was the largest and most representative that has ever watched the Southern classic. The day was perfect, the track at its best and Meelick's time for the nine furiongs, 1:51 4-5, is the best ever made over the course. The former record was 1:52 1-5.

Wetropolitan Association Announcements -Arsdale Club Buys New Home. Secretary Leighton Calkins of the Metropolitan Golf Association has sent out a postal card to all clubs in membership which con-tains the following three barrelled announcement:

1. Please send to the undersigned immediately the name and address of the secretary of your club, as the year book of the association is about to be issued.

2. Clubs are reminded that the consistution of this association provides that no club shall hold any tournament without first having a date assigned by the association.

3. The executive committee has decided to hold an open championship on September 24, 25 and 26, provided there is a club in the association willing to offer its links for the event. The expenses for prizee, programmes, some bulletins, &c., will, approximate $800. An entrance fee of $5 is to be charged, which, with sixty entiries, would raise $800. The association can contribute $250, which leaves only $250 to be paid by the club holding the event. If there is any club desirous of having the event this year kindly communicate with the secretary of the association as early as possible.

Golf clubs are still buying real estate. The Arsdale Golf Club of East Orange announced yesterday the purchase of the new dwelling house on the corner of Munn avenue immediately in front of the present clubhouse. The latter is about fifty yards to the rear and will be used as Dave Honeyman's shop and the caddle house. With slight alterations and the installation of lockers and showers the house will be ready for the members to take possession. The accommodation for women players will be a feature.

While the frost is coming out of the ground is a good time to close the courses, yet many had enjoyable rounds yesterday at a disregard of the soft going. On the sandy soils such as Dyker Meadow and the Salisbury course at Garden City the golfing was equal to summer conditions. There was also good golfing at Fox Hills and Baltusrol. If the weather holds all who are growing keen for a few shots may hope for a round next Saturday.

FORDHAM BALL PLAYERS OUT. Veterans on Hand and Many New Candidates for Positions.

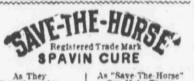

The fine weather of the last few days allowed the ball tossers of Fordham to get out of doors and although somewhat muddy yet the field is in fairly good condition for prac tice work. Coach Bassford had all his mer at work in all departments of the game and expects to be in good shape for the opening game, about two weeks off. The squad has not yet been cut and probably will not be for a week or so. Competition of the liveliest sort will be in order, as there are numerous promising candidates for many of the positions, but it is likely that few if any new faces will be seen on the Broux aggregation, as promising candidates for many of the positions, but it is likely that few if any new faces will be seen on the Bronx aggregation, as practically all the varsity men are again out for their places.

As soon as outdoor work was begun the men were put to batting practice and every day a considerable portion of the time is devoted to this branch of work. Coach Baseford intends to devote much time to the hitting of the Bronxites and this will be a big factor in the selection of the men. The battery department will be principally taken care of by Capt. McDonald at the receiving end and Mahoney and Egan on the firing line. Wilks is out for catcher, and Cassasa, Quinn and Smith are promising slabmen.

Fordham will have a fast infled this year. McCaffrey will likely fight for a position in the infield and will make it lively for some of the varsity men of last year. The initial bag has many candidates, many of them good fielders, and it is probable that batting ability will be a deciding factor in this selection. The outfield for this year will be strong both in fielding and batting. Hartman is a star fielder and a consistent hitter, Egan and Mahoney are good hitters, and Baldwin is rapidly rounding lato form.
